

LIST OF DEATHS RUNS UP TO 20

Score of People Perish in the Missouri Train Wreck.

OVER 40 INJURED

Fire Followed the Collision and Escaping Steam Scalds Dead and Dying.

AN AWFUL DISASTER

Kansas City, Mo., July 11.—The death list due to yesterday's wreck on the Chicago & Alton wreck, near Norton, Mo., continues to grow, the number of victims now being twenty. Three of the injured, are in the hospital here dying and there is small chance for the recovery of several of the others. Seventeen dead were recorded last night and today an unknown man, Mrs. Hilda Hayslip of Chicago and Mrs. J. D. Adsit of Hoopeston, Ill., were added to the list which is as follows:

The Dead
ARCR, LEVY, Columbus, O.
ADBIT, MRS. J. D., Hoopeston, Ill.
ANDERSON, P. J., Sator, Mo. engineer of freight train.
CURTIS, MRS. R. J., Geneseo, N. Y.; died at University Hospital.
DICKSON, MRS., 57 years old; died at University Hospital.
BEAUTIFUL GIRL, of 20, supposed to be Mrs. Dickson's daughter, died at University Hospital.
DONNELLY, DANIEL, of Mexico, Mo. fireman of the freight train, died at the University Hospital.
GILLAND, MRS., Goodland, Ind. daughter of above.
HOOKER, D. W., of Syracuse, N. Y.; died on train.
HAYSLIPP, MRS. MATILDA, Chicago, Ill.
JONES, SYDNEY, Kansas City; died in St. Joseph's Hospital.
M'ANNA, DANIEL, States, Mo., conductor of freight train.
RABER, I. S., Chicago, express messenger.
ROX, G. L., cashier of the Wilmington, Ill., bank; died on train coming to hospital.
SNYDER, MRS. C. W., Jasper, N. Y.; died on train way to hospital.
WALKER, MRS. FRANCES, Flatbush, Brooklyn.
UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN, elderly; no clue to identity.
UNKNOWN MAN.

Fire Added to Horror
Fire added to the horror of the disaster, the coaches being ablaze within a few minutes after the wreck occurred. The diner, chair car, and several other coaches were destroyed. Many of the passengers were burned or scalded by escaping steam. Six were killed outright, four died on a train conveying them to this city, and ten died in the hospitals.

Both Engineers Dead
Both engineers are dead. The conductor of the freight, the baggage master and three passengers made up the rest of the list. There has been such desperate rescue work at the scene of the accident that few names of the injured are obtainable. Most of the victims were fearfully mangled and some of them were burned so that they cannot be recognized. Relief trains loaded with physicians and nurses have started from here and other points.

It was one of those terrible head-on collisions, with all the attendant horrors of demolished engines, telescoped cars and mutilated human beings. The trains rushed into each other at full speed, the engines climbed one over the other and fell at the side of the track, and cars plowed through other cars as if they were made of paper. Farmers living two miles away heard the crash as the two monsters came together.

Members of the train crew hurried to the assistance of the panic stricken picnicers, but it was some time before quiet was restored. Conductor Sullivan, who was in charge of the train, and Ticket Agent Rich, secured the names of six persons injured and left for Chicago to report the accident.

SCHOOL FADS SCORED AT DETROIT; TEACHERS ATTACK EACH OTHERS' PETS

The Three "R's" Are Declared To Be Useless Before the Advance of the "Newer Educator."

Detroit, July 11.—Talk of fads filled the air at the general session of the National Educational Association at the Light Guard armory. Notwithstanding the rapidly rising mercury the teachers jumped into the discussion enthusiastically. They accused each other of having fads and denounced them with the same fervor that they did the board of education members and editorial writers who talk of superfluous studies in the schools.

There was hardly a teacher, however, who did not have a fondness for the various teachers' fads mentioned, while they seemed to enjoy the hits made at the public opinion of them. They all seemed to favor drawing, music, nature study and art as a part of the school curriculum, though all of these are fads in the popular mind. So many new fads were discovered by the speakers that it seemed as if the public schools would never be able to combat them successfully.

Chicago was scornfully alluded to as the home of the criticism of fads. The attacks in Chicago on fads were put down to the desire of the board

LA FOLLETTE IS A VERY SICK MAN

His Friends Are Much Worried—Physicians Advise Him to Go Where He Will Have Rest.

Madison, July 11.—Governor La Follette is a very sick man. That fact is now admitted at Madison among the intimate friends of the governor, who are very much worried lest he have another similar collapse to the one he had a few years ago, when his condition at times was critical. All engagements have been canceled on the advice of the governor's physicians. It is even a matter of doubt whether the governor will be able to take part in the exercises of Wisconsin day at the Buffalo exposition, July 27, on which occasion he is scheduled to make the opening address.

The governor's physicians have advised that he leave the state and go where he will have complete rest but this he has so far declined to do. He hopes that by keeping quiet in the executive mansion and doing nothing that he does not absolutely have to do he will be able to get back into his old form. For the last ten days he has not been down to the capitol.

Hot Day in London
London, July 11.—This is the hottest day of the year. Many prostrations are reported.

TIMOTHY ATKINSON LUMBER INSPECTOR

There is Little Change in Gov. La Follette's Condition Today—Still Confined to the House.

Madison, Wis., July 11.—[Special]—Governor La Follette today appointed Timothy Atkinson of Superior timber inspector for the thirteenth district, succeeding J. H. McDonald, whose term expired last April. The inspectors receive their pay in fees for scaling logs. There is little or no change in Governor La Follette's condition today. He will probably be confined to the house for some time.

BATTLE ROYAL FOR NORTHERN PACIFIC

J. Pierpont Morgan and the Harriman-Gould Faction Have Locked Horns Over This Road.

New York, July 11.—A battle royal is in sight between J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates on the one side and the Kuhn-Loeb-Harriman-Gould faction. The bone of contention is the Northern Pacific. This time it will be a fight to a finish and no quarter will be shown. With Mr. Morgan are allied one of the Rockefeller's, James J. Hill, leading interests in the National Bank of Commerce and the Morton Trust company.

On the other side is arrayed the National Bank city forces, persons intimately associated with another life insurance company, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., George J. Gould and members generally of what in the Northern Pacific corner was called the Kuhn-Loeb-Harriman-Gould faction. And also included with this party is a Rockefeller.

The fight may cause a breach in the Rockefeller family. Wall street insiders are reticent as to the nature of the renewed feud but that he fight is on all hands are agreed.

STEWART JELLEFF SENT TO WAUPUN

Dodgeville, July 11.—Stewart Jelleff, alias H. C. Winter, whose home is at Ripon, pleaded guilty to burglarizing the First National Bank at Mineral Point on May 24. The court sentenced him to the state reformatory at Green Bay for a term of from four to ten years.

PYTHIAN BOARD OUSTS HINSEY; FORCED TO RESIGN UNDER FIRE

Form of His Prosecution Has Not Been Decided Upon, But Will Be Both Civil and Criminal—Mr. Hinsey's Statement in Defense.

Chicago, July 11.—John A. Hinsey charged with responsibility for the financial wreck of the Endowment Rank of the Knights of Pythias, had his day in court yesterday. After devoting the morning and afternoon sessions to hearing his defense and explanation, the supreme lodge accepted the report and all of its charges by a vote of 130 to 1.

Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, one of the most radical of Mr. Hinsey's opponents, at once moved that he be ordered to show cause why he should not be expelled. Hinsey promptly countered by offering his resignation. In the evening it was accepted in a form almost as humiliating as expulsion.

Congressman Watson followed this up with resolutions ordering civil and criminal prosecutions of all responsible for the troubles and directing the subordinate lodge to begin proceedings to expel them from the order, which were adopted unanimously.

This morning Mr. Hinsey made his first statement in answer to the charges. He said:

"If there is any shortage it will not reach $18,000. They claim a heavy depreciation in the Lexington hotel bonds. That is a matter of opinion but I will admit that they will not bring the cost price today. As for

PEACE RUMORS CURRENT IN LONDON; NEGOTIATIONS SAID TO BE GOING ON

Word From Amsterdam, However, States That Kruger is Opposed to Sir Bannerman's Scheme.

Manchester, July 11.—The Guardian today says that a rumor is current in financial and military circles that negotiations for peace in South Africa are progressing, despite the fact that dispatches unfavorable to such a movement have recently passed between Bonga and Kruger. The paper says it is believed that the continuance of the war is due to the actions of the politicians at home and a lack of soldiers at the front. According to the Guardian, Kitchener has candidly written the government to this effect.

Amsterdam, July 11.—Herr Fischer, the Boer envoy to Europe, said today that Kruger was absolutely opposed to Sir Campbell Bannerman's scheme to grant to the Boers rights similar to those now extended to Canada. He declares that he only thing left for the Boers is to sweep the British out of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State.

WISCONSIN DAY AT BUFFALO EXPO.

Special Train Will Be Run—To Leave Madison and Milwaukee on July 25.

Milwaukee, July 11.—Arrangements were completed last evening for the running of a special train to Buffalo, to accommodate all those who wish to be present on Wisconsin day, July 27. The train will be made up at Madison and will leave that city at 8 o'clock on the morning of July 25 over the Northwestern road, stopping in this city and leaving for Chicago at 11 o'clock. From Chicago the run will be made via the Nickel Plate road, arriving at Buffalo on Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Hambright said last evening that tickets will be sold for one fare plus $1 for the round trip, the limit being ten days, and that they will be sold from any part of the state.

"We have made special arrangements with the Park Hotel of Buffalo for the Wisconsin people on Wisconsin day," said Mr. Hambright last evening. "The hotel which is located at the EastAmherst gate, and can be reached by street cars without change from the depot, is strictly fire proof."

SHEET STEEL MEN IN CONFERENCE

Labor Representatives and Magnates in Session at Pittsburgh Today—Meeting is in Secret.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 11.—The conference of the officers of the Amalgamated association and representatives of the billion dollar steel trust for the purpose of effecting a settlement of the strike in the sheet steel mills, began here this morning. A greatest secrecy is observed as to the identity of the men representing the trust. All information as to program and progress is refused by the conferees.

President Shaffer of the Amalgamated was named chairman of the conference. Shaffer in a long speech presented the workmen's side, saying that the strike was not wanted. In replying to Shaffer several of the trust representatives spoke in a conciliatory tone.

New York, July 11.—A Wall Street financial house has received a dispatch from Pittsburgh which says that the conference over the steel strike has reached a satisfactory settlement.

ATLANTIC COAST SWEEP BY STORM

Norfolk, Va., July 11.—A terrific storm swept the Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland last night. The wind blew fifty-four miles an hour. Sailing vessels at sea are thought to have suffered greatly. Just what damage is done on the Carolina coast is not yet known as the wires are down.

LUTHERANS MEET AT APPLETON

Annual Session of the Wisconsin Section of the Ohio District—The Officers for Ensuing Year

Appleton, Wis., July 11.—The annual convention of the Wisconsin district of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Ohio and other states opened at Zion church in this city today and will remain in session for one week. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected at the morning session: President, the Rev. H. Eisenbach, Oconto, Wis.; vice president, the Rev. H. K. G. Doermann, Blue Island, Ill.; secretary, the Rev. C. F. W. Allwardt, Shelbyville, Ill. The principal item of interest was the president's report which reviewed a profitable year's work and showed active service and gains all along the line.

The district represented in the convention comprises the states of Wisconsin and Illinois, and is one of the ten which comprise the Ohio synod. About fifty ministers and twenty teachers and lay delegates have been in attendance upon today's session, and the number of arrivals is expected to be doubled by tomorrow. The Wisconsin district is a comparatively new field of work for the Ohio synod and members point with pride to the great gains of recent years. President Doermann delivered a sermon at today's services.

PRESIDENT EATON GOES EAST TODAY

Beloit College Man Has Several Engagements to Speak—Will Be Gone About a Year.

Beloit, Wis., July 11.—President E. D. Eaton of Beloit college left today for Newton Heights, Mass., near Boston, where he will spend the summer months with his brother. In the fall Dr. and Mrs. Eaton will probably go to Europe. President Eaton is to deliver the annual sermon before the American board of foreign missions at Boston in October, and has several other engagements to speak. His absence from Beloit will be fully a year.

HAS BEEN NAMED CAMP GRIFFIN

The Late Wisconsin Ex-Congressman is Honored by the State National Guard.

Madison, Wis., July 11.—The military name of Camp Douglas this year will be "Camp Griffin" in honor of Congressman Griffin of Eau Claire, deceased. It has been customary to honor some prominent Badger soldier by naming the camp for him during the encampment of each national guard, and after some consultation with leading military men of the state Adjutant General Boardman this year decided to confer the honor on the dead soldier and statesman, who served the state as quartermaster-general, and later as congressman of the old Seventh district.

DR. BILLINGS IS MADE PRESIDENT

Convention of American Library Association at Waukesha Closes—Delegates Leave the City.

Waukesha, Wis., July 11.—At the closing session of the American Library association yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Dr. John Shaw Billings, New York; first vice president, Dr. James K. Hosmer, Minneapolis; second vice president, Miss Electra C. Doren, Dayton, O.; secretary, Frederick W. Faxon, Boston; treasurer, Gardner M. Jones, Salem, Mass.; recorder, Miss Helen E. Haines, New York; trustee of endowment fund for three years, Charles C. Sowle, Boston.

Most of the delegates left Waukesha last night, bound for the National Educational association convention at Detroit and the Pan-American exposition. It is not, of course, known where the next session will be held, but Portland, Ore., and Brevard, N. C., are both out for the meeting.

WILL GIVE THE CUBANS A CHANCE NO INTERFERENCE IN ELECTIONS

But the Military Will Insist on a Fair Vote—Progress of Forming the Government Is Slow.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—The war department does not propose to interfere with the Cubans in their work of framing an election law and prescribing conditions of electoral franchise. The constitution as now drawn is quite satisfactory to this government. Secretary Root and President McKinley have examined it in detail, and while there has been no official declaration that it meets the requirements, the secretary has communicated with the governor-general, who, in turn, has informed the members of the Cuban convention that they are at liberty to proceed with their task of building a government.

There is nothing in the Platt amendments giving the United States the right to dictate the qualification of voters. As a general principle the president believes in keeping hands off. At the same time if the Cubans should frame an election law, and prescribe qualifications of voters of such a character as to deny to the people of Cuba a fair and full voice in passing upon the constitution, the authorities here feel that they would be justified under the treaty of Paris in rejecting such law. Any election which is held will be under the direct management of the military authorities, though the manner of holding the election, its date, and the qualifications of voters, will all be prescribed by the members of the constitutional convention. The first election will be that in which the constitution is submitted to the approval of the people. It is expected that this will be held at an early day. The military authorities are ready any time the Cubans are.

CROPS KILLED BY TORRID WAVE

Heat Does Much Damage Throughout Western Farming Lands.

KANSAS HIT HARD

Corn is Destroyed, and Oats and Hay Gone—Nebraska a Heavy Sufferer

BADGER STATE LOSS

Madison, Wis., July 11.—No accurate estimate can be made of the damage to Wisconsin crops since July 1, but it will run well into the hundreds of thousands. There has been no rain in this locality for nearly a month, and only scattered showers elsewhere. Yesterday a burning wind swept over the state, shriveling the already parched crops. The berry crop is almost a total failure, and corn and tobacco will be little better unless relief comes at once. One farmer near here, with 130 acres of oats will not cut any. Pastures are drying, and there is likely to be a shortage of feed.

Heat Kills the Crops

Topeka, Kan., July 11.—Yesterday's hot wave has practically destroyed the remaining hope for the partial corn crop. This has been the worst day of the heated spell, and farmers and elevator men today give up all hope for the corn. The oats and hay are ruined, and the fruit on the trees is falling to the ground. The vegetable crop is a total failure.

If the state should be drenched in rain today the corn crop of Kansas would not reach a total of 50,000,000 bushels. The average crop of corn is about 200,000,000 bushels. The weather bureau promises no cessation of the hot wave nor does it give any hope for rain. The streams are drying up and the question of water for the cities and towns and for stock is becoming a serious question.

Alarming Condition in Missouri

Jefferson City, Mo., July 11.—The drought and the hot weather have completely ruined the corn crop of central Missouri, and almost all over the entire state. Oats were not harvested; hay is a failure and even potatoes will not be half a crop. Gardens are burned up, and the pastures are as bare as they generally are in dry August. The situation for Missouri farmers is alarming.

Great Damage to Potatoes
Lincoln, Neb., July 11.—Potatoes and late planted oats have suffered the greatest damage of Nebraska's crops since the first of the month on account of the heat and dry weather. The late planted oats acreage is insignificant, but the loss in potatoes will be considerable.

Rain Would Save Iowa Crops

Des Moines, July 11.—The hot winds of the past two days have done some harm to corn and oats in the eastern part of Iowa, following two weeks of dry weather. The best informed men say that corn will not be seriously damaged however, if rain comes in seventy two hours. If not, damage will be swift and heavy.

Illinois Crops Much Effected

Springfield, Ill., July 11.—Reports from all over Illinois indicated that the unparalleled heat wave has struck the state is playing havoc with the growing crops. Pastures are suffering severely from the heat and dry weather, and the effect is correspondingly adverse to live stock. Although the hot weather generally has been beneficial to corn, the intense heat of the last few days has inflicted much damage.

Form Cold Storage Trust

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—The cold storage combine is assured: Chicago capitalists negotiating for the big Indianapolis cold storage plant here, one of the largest in the country, now hold options on nineteen plants. The storage business is to be controlled absolutely.

WEAR QUEER LOOKING STRAW HATS; HUMANE NEW FASHION FOR HORSES

Hard Working and Useful Animals Especially Favored in Hot Weather—Sponges Tied On, to Keep Heads Cool—Care Is Well Repaid.

A farmer, who drove into town today, attracted considerable attention, not because there was anything peculiar in his appearance but because his team of horses wore the funny looking straw hats which are now made especially for horses. Although many glances of amusement were directed toward the team both the horses and their driver rose to a new dignity in the eyes of the passers by and in many a mind the little incident started a train of kindly thoughts.

The fashion of providing horses with straw hats is the rule rather than the exception in Chicago, Milwaukee and other large cities. It is a fashion which is not confined to the working horses plodding along on drays and delivery wagons. The aristocratic thoroughbreds who prance gaily in front of stylish and costly rubber tired equipages wear the same little straw hats as are worn by their plebeian kindred. The bonnets are queer looking affairs, the horse's ears sticking through holes cut in each side of the wide brim, but they mean protection for the horse's head. Many drivers place a wet sponge under the hat and this means added comfort for the horse.

This growing custom of having consideration for the dumb brutes which serve man faithfully through heat and cold, storm or sunshine is causing considerable comment both from the press and from individuals. Concerning the better treatment of horses the Milwaukee Sentinel editorially says:

"The queer little straw bonnets which deck the heads of horses this summer are odd enough in appearance to provoke mirth, but their very general adoption throughout the country is a matter worthy of serious consideration. It shows an increased regard for the dumb beast of burden which marks an advance in the moral standard of man."

"So far as the horse himself is concerned this little bonnet may not afford much relief from the heat, but the fact that his owner or driver recognizes his suffering to that extent is evidence of a humane feeling that is commendable. The thousands of bonnets in use in every city show that public opinion is becoming educated on this subject."

"And the bonnet is not all that indicates an appreciation of the suffering of dumb animals in hot weather. In some cities there is a growing custom of spraying tired horses with cold water, and New York reports a gentleman of leisure who stood on a crowded thoroughfare during the hot weather and sprayed every horse that passed drawing a heavy load."

"In this city very few horses have been prostrated, and there have been fewer than usual in all of the big cities. Neither bonnets nor spraying would be sufficient to account for the reduction in the number. They are but single evidences of a general consideration for the welfare of the horse which has produced the result."

"The service that the horse has rendered the man has been invaluable and the woes that man has heaped upon him have been many and heavy. He has been made to toil all day on scorching pavements and stay at night in hot, ill-ventilated stables, and until recent years little effort has been made to alleviate this suffering. The marked change this summer is in every way praiseworthy."

A well defined tendency toward more humane treatment of horses is abroad in the land. It is noticeable not only in Janesville and Rock County, but everywhere in the northwest. The fact that horse flesh is more valuable now than ever before may have some casual relation to this lately developed state of affairs. It is easy to see why a horse owner or driver would take greater care of an animal valued at $300 than he would of one worth only $100. Whatever be the reason for the change it is a fact that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is now scarcely ever called upon to treat with a case of abuse to horses. A few years ago it was common for horses to be worked beyond their strength, poorly fed and half cared for; and for a brutal teamster to be forced to restrain from unmercifully beating faithfully but physically unfit animals was an occurrence of almost every day frequency.

During the recent hot spell the humane treatment of equines was especially to be noticed. It was formerly usual to keep horses toiling all day on scorching pavements and make them stay at night in hot, ill-ventilated stables, but recently many successful efforts have been made to alleviate suffering caused by such treatment. The amount of hard work now required of the ordinary horse is greatly lessened, his stable is kept cleaner and is well ventilated; great care is given to the amount and quality of his feed and a noteworthy pride is taken in the perfection with which he is groomed.

Local liverymen have been especially careful the past month, lest their animals suffer from overheating. On the hottest days no rigs were allowed to go out unless accompanied by one of the stable hands as driver and on no account would a team be hired to a strange driver or for a long trip. When necessary, as was in a few cases to let out a rig for an important trip such as a physician's urgent call, the horses were not allowed to travel fast and were halted frequently to rest and cool off in the shade of the roadside trees. When the animals returned to the stable their mouths and heads were carefully sponged with cool water and a good rub-down was given. In some of the large cities it was reported that the horses were given stimulants after hard work. This was usually a stiff dram of whisky. So far as learned horsemen have not used stimulants in the ordinary treatment of their animals and have resorted to the practice only in extreme cases of sickness. A very effective means of helping the horse to stand the hot weather is the common method of tying a wet sponge on the animal's head just back of the ears. Some people think it kind and humane to spray the heated animal with a hose but this is extremely dangerous as the beast is likely to contract a cold.

A modern feature of the horse barn is the ground floor box stall with no floor other than earth. Most up-to-date livery stables are now equipped with a number of mud floor stalls in which horses are allowed to stand when their feet show signs of swelling or when the hoof begins to crack. More attention is also paid to shoeing. The hoof is pared much less than formerly when horses were frequently ruined by being permanently lamed by too much cutting away of the hoof.

THE RAILWAY DOG.

An Important Aid in Operating an Early Western Road

It is a matter of history that a shepherd dog was an important aid in operating the trains that run on the first railroad built in the territory of Washington. When Dorsey S. Baker constructed a strap railroad from Wallula, on the Columbia river, to Walla Walla, the trading center of the inland empire, horses and cattle covered the "thousand hills" and blockaded the valleys through which the pioneer line ran. A dog was kept on the engine to clear the track when brutes became so numerous as to bring the train to a standstill. There are many early settlers in the northwest who tell the story of the usefulness of this little shepherd dog in operating trains on the Dr. Baker railroad. The dog was used for several years and was known by all the miners in Idaho and Montana who traveled that way. While doing duty on the track in front of the engine one day the faithful animal was run over.—Portland Oregonian.

GOOD TEMPLARS WILL CELEBRATE

Local Lodges Will Observe the Fiftieth Jubilee of the Order Tomorrow Evening.

Fifty years ago in the city of Utica, N. Y., there was started a little organization that was destined to grow to a mighty maturity and become known all over the world. The organization was the Independent Order of Good Templars and this week wherever there is a branch society, the fiftieth jubilee of the order will be celebrated.

People's lodge, No. 460, of this city will observe the jubilee with an open lodge meeting at Good Templars' hall on Friday evening. An excellent musical and literary program has been arranged for and the public is cordially invited to share in the pleasure of the jubilee celebration. Former members of the order of Good Templars are especially invited to be present.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S JEWELS.

Enormous Value of Her Treasures—Hoarding by Royalty.

I hear from Copenhagen, of all places, that the quantity of jewelry in the private treasury of the late Queen beggars all imagination. While slow to believe in amazing things the amount of wealth locked up in her jewels must have been well nigh incalculable. The golden jubilee gifts of jewelry alone would be convertible into a great fortune. The donors must have been brainy people to make such presents to an aged sovereign who could not wear them. It is a pity that royal wills are not subjected to the same publicity as the wills of private people. The ways of royalty have been kept dark since the house of Hanover came to England.

All the queen consorts hoarded, except the two Carolines. The first Caroline spent with good judgment and generosity. The second Caroline was profuse in spending upon her adopted son and her favorite Italian courier and her children. But Augusta, princess of Wales, who did without servants, hoarded. Queen Charlotte hoarded and received presents from shady "nabobs." Queen Adelaide gave away a good deal in charity, but she also hoarded out of her astonishingly large civil list allowance. Queen Charlotte winked at the amours of the Prince Regent with ladies of rank in the hopes that he would give her jewels. This policy had the effect of swelling her treasure. She gave away a great deal of jewelry to her children. The residue, valued at £240,000, she left to her unmarried daughters.

In France, all temptation for hoarding was removed. The king could not have private property. Louis Philippe attempted to evade this rule by conveying all his estates, before he accepted the throne to his children. As his deed was in law a bad one, because meant to evade the code, the children could not profit by it. But the rule added greatly to the dignity and magnificence of the crown.

Sir Robert Peel may have been a great statesman, but he was unimaginative. This was shown in his bill to enable the crown to hold private estates. I remember many clouds of discontent casting their shadow on the late Queen's popularity. In most cases they were due to the idea that she was too wealthy. Yet it must be said that she expended handsomely on balls, concerts, garden parties, and on dinners at Windsor. She greatly grumbled in her foreign trips the presentation of articles of jewelry to people who did little to earn them. Few measures of the Salisbury Cabinet gave her more satisfaction than the creation of the Victorian order. The idea of creating it was first submitted to her at Nice, and elicited an outburst of satisfaction. When Victorian decorations were bestowed, breastpins and studs enriched with brilliants would be superfluous.—London Truth.

STATE TO FIGHT SMALL POX PLAGUE

Precautions Taken to Prevent the Epidemic Next Winter—Plans of State Board of Health.

The greatest precautions ever exercised in Wisconsin are to be taken this year to prevent another outbreak of smallpox in the northern part of the state. The work will be under the direction of the state board of health, but it is expected that the local boards of health in northern Wisconsin cities will co-operate, and it is hoped that with the care which will be exercised that an epidemic similar to that which prevailed last winter will be prevented.

With the coming of warm weather the smallpox has almost entirely disappeared from Northern Wisconsin but unless unusual precautions are taken the members of the state board of health fear the disease may break out with renewed vigor next winter, and it is against such an outbreak that the present precautions will be taken. In the first place, the greatest care will be taken in watching the men going to the lumber camps, where the disease this year had its origin, and any signs of the disease on the part of any one will be the signal for its immediate quarantine. The bedding and other articles destined for the camps will also be closely examined and disinfected. In camps where there were last winter outbreaks of the disease it will be asked that the buildings be burned and new camp buildings erected.

Infected Bedding the Cause. It is the belief of members of the state board that the origin of the disease this year was the bedding of the camps, and none of the bedding used in infected camps last winter will be allowed to be used again. Circulars as to the best method of proceeding to prevent a repetition of the disease this winter will probably be sent out by the board early this fall to the various local boards of health in a number of towns, and a close watch will be as laid down in the circulars are followed.

According to the members of the state board, one of the reasons for the large number of cases of smallpox for the past winter was the light form in which it prevailed. Very often it is said patients were not sick so that it was not known they had the smallpox, and for this reason they were not quarantined, and they thus exposed many others to the disease. The members of the board say that despite the large number of cases reported they believe that there were a very large number of mild cases of the disease which escaped the health officers altogether. The mild type of the disease which prevailed in Wisconsin this winter can be seen when it is said that the number of deaths from the disease was a very small percentage of the cases indeed.

Legislative Aid Will Be Asked. The northern Wisconsin towns which spent large sums of money this winter in caring for smallpox have asked the state to reimburse them for their expenditures. These cities expected that the state board of health would order appropriations from the contingent fund for their reimbursement, but, according to the attorney-general, this could not be done. The cities will now appeal to the legislature as they believe it is but fair that the state should bear a portion of the expense which has been occasioned by the outbreak of the disease.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, of Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algonquin, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

Brilliantine Skirts....

They are hot weather sellers. We are selling freely light weight fine brilliantine skirts made without lining, colors, black and light gray. These skirts are rare value at $5.50.

Linen Dress Skirts

Have had to wire orders for them, they sell so fast. Success has crowned our efforts to place these linen skirts in easy reach of purses with a limit to them. The $2.50 and $4 numbers can't be matched elsewhere.

Ties That Take

Hundreds of pretty new things to show you. Our assortment of dainty neckwear is unusually large. Shield Bows to wear with high turn over collars, in silk and grenadines. Linen novelties that are rare. Windsors in large variety. Easy to get suited here.

Dainty Beadings. Lovely Insertions.

The demand is great for insertions and our collection is a choice one. A large New York importer keeps us supplied with new things as fast as they appear. 50 pieces of extra narrow embroidered beadings and insertions in Swiss, nainsook and Hamburg received July 5th; we can please you.

All Overs...

White cotton all overs in lace stripes and beading creations at 25c, 40c, 50c, $1, $1.50, &c. Just the thing for yokes and fronts in summer muslins.

Wash Cotton Goods...

200 pieces arrived from New York last week. Our stock is not allowed to run down. All black dress stuffs are well liked and scarce but plenty of them here. The beautiful lace stripe fast black sheer muslins hardly out of the case are being cut into at a lively rate. Prices, 12½, 15, 20, 25 and 35c.

Parasols

Have you bought a new one yet? Summer novelties in parasols that will make any young lady look sweeter and forget the warmth of the atmosphere. You should see ours. Don't forget the little girls; you know they all have a weakness for parasols, even the tots.

McCall Bazar Patterns

for August have been received. No better patterns made than the McCall. Constantly growing in popular favor. Easy to understand, made with graceful curves, styles refreshingly new, and all 10c and 15c, none higher. Subscribe for the McCall Magazine next time you buy a pattern, it only costs 30c a year and pattern included. Ask to see a copy of it. The Bazar Dressmaker is a useful book to have and contains about 1000 illustrations of patterns; only 15c.

ITALIAN LABORER BADLY INJURED

Braggio Licliano, an Italian employed by the St. Paul railroad, was quite badly injured yesterday by being caught under a hand car which jumped the track. The accident happened in the switch yard of the St. Paul road. Five men were pushing a hand car along the track and were going at a good rate of speed when the car struck a rock and jumped from the rails.

Braggio was caught under the car and his left leg badly bruised. The muscles between the knee and hip were wrenched and torn, but no bones were broken. Some of the arteries were broken causing a clot of blood to form.

He was placed on the engine of the work train and brought to the St. Paul station and was taken to Mrs. Henderson's hospital on South Main street in the patrol wagon. His injuries will lay him up for some time. Dr. Pietro another Italian was hurt at the same time. He had quite a gash cut in the back of his head and went to the hospital where Dr. Joe Whiting attended to his injuries.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

Poachers Are Now Active.
Quebec, July 11.—The Canadian authorities are threatened with as much trouble from the poachers of the Saguenay as they have had with the smugglers of the St. Lawrence. The former are growing even more daring in their open defiance of the officers of the law than the smugglers ever were. The tributaries of the Saguenay are among the finest natural salmon streams in Canada, but the poachers spread their nets in the Saguenay between the mouth of the river and the estuaries of the salmon streams and intercept the fish as they come up from the sea to ascend to their spawning grounds.

Starts New "Boxer" Move.
Shanghai, July 11.—A new "boxer" movement is being started, according to Chinese intelligence from Ssang-Fu Pu Chun, the heir apparent, with other members of Prince Tuan's family, has gone to join Tuan on the borders of Mongolia and there are strong indications that Prince Tuan is preparing to march against the foreigners with the tacit approval of the empress dowager.

Martial Law in Seville.
Seville, Spain, July 11.—Martial law has been proclaimed here, owing to the turbulence of the strikers. A mob last night paraded the streets, hurling stones promiscuously until a late hour. The streets are now patrolled by troops.

Reports Defeat of Boers.
London, July 11.—Severe fighting, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Lourenzo Marques, has taken place between Machadodorp and Leydenburg, the Boers being defeated with at least fifty killed.

Turkey Pays at Last.
Washington, July 11.—The State Department has received the amount of the American indemnity claim against Turkey, $95,000, through the American legation at Constantinople.

THE OBITUARY RECORD.

Mrs. Martha Patterson Dead.
Knoxville, Tenn., July 11.—A special to the Sentinel from Greenville, Tenn., says: "Mrs. Martha Patterson, the last of the children of ex-President Andrew Johnson, died at 4:15 a. m. Her last hours were peaceful. She will be buried near her father and by the side of her husband in the Johnson family cemetery west of Greenville, where a magnificent shaft of Tennessee marble marks the last resting place of one of the three Presidents given the nation by Tennessee. Mrs. Patterson's death leaves only five survivors in the Johnson family."

Death of A. F. Seeburger.
Des Moines, Ia., July 11.—Anthony F. Seeburger, treasurer of the World's Columbian Exposition, and for many years prominent in Chicago's business life, died here of pneumonia. He came to Des Moines three months ago at a call from a sick relative. Mr. Seeburger was the collector of the port of Chicago during President Cleveland's first administration. He also was one of the organizers of the Edison Electric Light company. He was born in Wetzlar, Prussia, in 1829.

Woman Lashes a Thief.
Austin, Ill., July 11.—While a dozen men stood by in a circle to prevent escape Mrs. William McGill of Austin applied a cattle whip to the back and legs of the man who had stolen her purse. As the men cheered and the thief begged for mercy the woman, who is small and fragile in appearance, swung the whip with increased vigor, until the wretch who was taking the drubbing fell to the floor, pleading that the punishment might cease. Then, although the police had been summoned, the thief was allowed to go free.

Lumbermen Lynch a Chinaman.
Bakersfield, Cal., July 11.—Young Pook, a Chinese cook employed at a boarding-house at Mount Breckenridge lumber mill, thirty-five miles east of Bakersfield, in the mountains, was lynched by lumbermen. The Chinaman attacked Mrs. Kenney, wife of the foreman of the mill, with a butcher knife, inflicting a serious wound on her face. He struck Mrs. Kenney's little daughter, but the injury is slight.

Oilcloth Combine Formed.
Youngstown, O., July 11.—The combine of light oilcloth companies of the country, to be known as the Standard Table Oilcloth company, was effected to-day under the laws of New Jersey. The capital stock is $10,000,000, underwritten by Youngstown capitalists. The combine consists of seven concerns. It is expected that this city will be headquarters of the new combine.

Excursion Rates to Council Bluffs.

SPARKS FROM THE DIAMOND.

Cincinnati fans think that John Gangel is the greatest first baseman they ever gazed upon.
John T. Brush says that he is through with Amos Rusie. The big pitcher's career is doubtless over.
George VanHoltren is making a hard stab to lead the league in batting. He is hitting them out close up to .395.

Beville, the pitcher who was tried by Somer's team and found lacking is now twirling for the Lowell club.
Young Scott, the Cincinnati pitcher, who was again stacked up again Mathewson, and what Christy did to him was a sin.

Mique Kahoe is a small man, smaller than the average catcher. He does not look unlike Malachi Kitttridge on a back view.

Sam Crawford is the leading slugger of the National league, with two baggers, tripples, and home runs enough to wad a cannon.

John King is blinding them out close to the .300 mark right along. He is one of the best batting catchers in the league.

Dexter ought to make a rattling good second baseman, and his batting and base running will be a vast improvement upon Cupid Childs.

Cleveland is trying hard to get Walter Clarkson. McAllister has made the last of the Clarkson boys a flattering offer to become a professional.

Hartsell is one of the best fielders in the world on short flies and balls falling in front of him. Too late he is weak on the sailors that go over his head.

Bason had a high one, which he sneaked over by the batter's shoulder. It was a pretty shot and caught even such men as Delehanty and Wolverton unexpected.

Cunningham got the hoot on one decision. He called "ball" on Delehanty when it came right over, and Del, knowing it to be a strike, had begun to lay down his bat without a dissenting word.

Raymor is playing as good third as could be asked now that he has learned the angles of the base. There never was any trouble with his wing and his batting is as good as most in-felder's stick work.

Charlie Comiskey watches the National league games nearly every day. Probably he wants to learn some science, as his team is needing a lot of drilling, and Loftus' men would be valuable teachers.

Heartburn.
When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the constitution has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by King's pharmacy and People's drug store.

TELEPHONE WAR LIKELY.

Independent Association to Pursue an Aggressive Policy in East.
New York, July 11.—President Thomas of Cleveland, O., the newly elected president of the Independent Telephone Association of America, said:

"I came here from Cleveland to take charge of the operation and construction of an independent telephone system in New York and Boston. Plans are also being laid for the construction of a long distance line between the two cities. It is the intention of the telephone, telegraph and cable company to pursue an aggressive policy in the east, where the independent telephone movement has been practically neglected. The construction of a system in New York and Boston will cost about $9,000,000."

County Official Sentenced.
Minden, Neb., July 11.—County Treasurer Alfred Norlin, who confessed to the embezzlement of $10,000 of county funds, and admitted he set the courthouse on fire to cover his crime, will be taken to the penitentiary at Lincoln. At 4 p. m. at Norlin's request, a special session of the district court was convened, and the embezzling treasurer entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to six years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $5,400.

Cloudburst Wrecks a Train.
Helena, Mont., July 11.—A cloudburst at Sanders, in the eastern part of the state, caused damage to the Northern Pacific track and wrecked passenger train No. 3, eastbound, while going thirty-five miles an hour. Water had undermined the track. The passengers were shaken up but not injured. Every car except the last two plunging into a regular lake caused by the heavy fall of water.

A. D. White, United States Ambassador to Germany, will retire from diplomatic service next year. Shocked at son's death.

Very Low Rates to Detroit, Mich.
Via the Northwestern line. Excursion tickets will be sold at greatly reduced rates on account of N. E. A. convention to be held at Detroit, July 8th to 12th. For dates of sale and limits apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern railway.

Brill Pays a Fine of $500.
Laporte, Ind., July 11.—Joseph W. Brill, the Cleveland mine owner, charged with an attempt on the life of Attorney E. E. Weir, appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery. Judge Richer imposed a fine of $500, which was immediately paid.

POND'S EXTRACT

There is only ONE POND'S EXTRACT, and everybody knows its purity, strength and great medicinal value. Don't take the weak, watery Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" POND'S EXTRACT. They generally contain "wood alcohol," which irritates the skin, and, taken internally, is a deadly poison. Get genuine POND'S EXTRACT, sold ONLY in SEALED bottles, in BUFF wrappers.

Pan-American Exposition

Buffalo, N. Y., May 1 to Nov. 1.

In its court settings, architectural, fountain and electrical effects, sculptural adornment, horticultural and floral embellishment, and color decorations this exposition will surpass all others.

To enjoy its charms, with the added attraction of Niagara Falls will be a most delightful privilege.

As the only double track railway from the West to Buffalo (meaning greater safety and dispatch in traveling) and by reason of its furnishing the most complete and frequent service of any line, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern with its eight through trains daily, including the only daylight train, will prove the most desirable route for exposition travel.

In making it your choice you will travel well. It takes you through the richest and fairest portion of the Middle States, including the beautiful Western Reserve country with nearly 300 miles of ride along the picturesque south shore of Lake Erie.

All tickets over this route afford use of steamers either way between Cleveland and Buffalo, also stop at Chautauqua on return trip within limit of ticket.

The Milwaukee Journal suggests a joint debate between Governor La Follette and Senator John M. Whitehead. The Journal says:

The Madison Journal in one of its molly-coddle editorials, attempts to make itself and other people believe that Senator John M. Whitehead was insincere and halfhearted in his attitude of leadership against Gov. La Follette, in the senate last winter. It says:

"The fact is that John Whitehead had nothing in common with most of the active spirits of the opposition last winter. He had a genuine regard for that honest, open fighter, 'Long' Jones of Waukesha, and for some of the little fellows who voted with Jones; but to the defiant, brash and noisy Stalwarts—the Anna Held type of senators—Whitehead was as adverse as oil to water."

Then it insults Senator Whitehead with the intimation that his course against the primary bill was "perhaps the afterglow of Whitehead's collapse as a gubernatorial candidate, along with Bradford, Jones and Stebbins." If "Long" Jones is honest and Senator Whitehead is honest, there is no rational excuse for questioning the attitude of any other Stalwart senators during last winter's session. These two men were the head and front of the opposition. They consulted and led, from beginning to end, and no man who knows Senator Whitehead, fails to recognize that his opposition to the primary bill was grounded deeper than that of any other man in the legislature. His speech against the measure was strong and statesmanlike, the most careful, intelligent and comprehensive argument made on either side of the discussion of the Stevens bill. Mr. Whitehead is the most capable man in the state to meet the governor in public discussion for this reason. The La Follette propositions have heretofore had no discussions before the people. They have heard only the governor's declamations on these alleged reforms. For this reason the Journal suggested the importance of having both sides heard, this fall. Certainly Senator Whitehead will sacrifice no dignity if he repeats such arguments as he made last winter in the senate. If the governor believed in his own theories and has the faith in the people that he assumes to have, he can do a public service by meeting such a man as Senator Whitehead in joint debate. There is nothing frivolous in the proposition, nothing undignified in carrying it out unless the governor and his friends shrink from the encounter.

Although it appears that the poor negro is suffering as the result of practical disfranchisement, the time will surely come when the Caucasians will, of the wind reap the whirlwind. The South is doing all in its power to reduce the negro to the poor, ownerless slave, to a position far more degrading to his self-respect and manhood, than that he held before the war. Whether the south will be entirely successful depends partly on the negro himself, and partly on the better class of whites; for it is only that class of tricksters and blackmailing politicians who have placed one of the greatest blotches on the fair name of our commonwealth. The south is dominated by a class of heartless, soulless, penny-in-the-slot dummies, who have for their ambition, the determination to rob the black man of every vestige of hope to reach the place of civilized and enlightened citizenship. It is true that some of the negroes are a menace to white society; but the whites are almost wholly to blame for this condition; they have never ceased to consider the blacks their inferiors, simply because, before the war, they were slaves. There are thousands of southern mountain whites who are more ignorant, more degraded, and a greater menace to good citizenship, than any community of Afro-Americans. The interest of every Christian must be enlisted to influence public opinion and the public press to the boiling point of indignation; and demand of the south that they respect the rights of the negro; and with the same firmness with which we demand their respect of our rights and our common flag in '61.

Some of the members of the Virginia constitutional convention who want the fiftieth amendment repealed, probably were with Lee at Appomattox. They have not forgotten the valor of the black troops at Petersburg; neither should we of the north forget the lives that were endangered or lost that these same black men might enjoy the civil and personal liberty of their masters.

Are we of the north going to sit idly by and see all of the work of our brave veterans undone, or are we bound to move forward to a broader and juster citizenship based on national, and not on race, lines?

A Milwaukee court recently granted one sweeping of the most sweeping injunction. Injunctions relative to labor troubles, we have ever noticed. The injunction was directed against the Association of Machinists and prohibits strikers from interfering with men employed in their places at the Vilter Mfg. Co. It is significant because of its prohibition of boycotting the company or its employees, neither can the strikers gather about the works without risk of arrest.

This writ is the first of the kind ever issued and if it is successful it will materially affect all labor disturbances of the future in that city at least.

It is generally conceded that workmen may work where and when they please, and for whatever wages they please. If any one is allowed to dictate any of these points to the laborer, at that moment he becomes a slave and the dictator becomes his master.

If the strikers have a right to quit work, the same argument can be made that he has a right to take work, when he wishes. A man's labor is his own and no one has a right to in any way interfere with his disposition of it.

Now that the authorities are applying a rigid legal policy to the C. M. & St. P. company, it is but natural that people should be asking if an equally rigid construction is placed on the regulation that disqualifies an alderman from drawing pay from the city treasury, either as salary or as payment on any contract. The goose should receive the same food as the gander. If the city can afford to hire lawyers to fight the railway company, it can afford to hire an attorney to enforce ALL the laws, state and local.

At last accounts the common council was still determined to prevent the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company from making any substantial improvements, at any cost. People who wish to build in Janesville had better go somewhere else or wait until the present council goes out of office.

Janesville's council appears to have one policy for electric lines, and another for steam lines. The electric line got everything it wanted, regardless of the mayor's veto, but the St. Paul company can get nothing but expensive lawsuits.

The Knights of Pythias Insurance order has followed in the tracks of the I. O. O. F. A demand must be made on the members, and the management reorganized. Cannot these societies strike a plan after a while that will be feasible and adequate?

Alderman McLean, it now appears, doesn't own the Milwaukee street bridge. Hence he need be ashamed of the structure only officially, and not personally.

As a result of present conditions, American trade with Russia is at a standstill, and European vessels are working overtime to permanently control the same.

Notice the calmness of the Russian statesman who says he does not intend to annex Manchuria—that is already accomplished.

Justice Brewer has undoubtedly found out what it means to have a decision reversed, now that he has married.

Economically, we can watch the American Salt Trust with calmness. The political effect is another matter.

Bats five feet long have been found in Africa. Suppose Milwaukee import a few of them for her ball nine.

A MOST FAIR PROPOSITION

My callers are my best advertisers. Every morning, from this day on, Madame De Odd will give free tests in medium work between the hours of 10 to 11 o'clock in private parlors at 154 South Main Street. You pay nothing. Madame De Odd and attendants will be in Janesville for several weeks. To introduce herself she makes this most liberal proposition:

She asks no questions; tells the names of friends and enemies; tells what you have called for; tells your name in full; tells all about your business affairs; tells things you should know. Does another share the love that should belong to you, or is there some one else's love you wish to gain, or have you secret enemies or rivals you wish to overcome? Do you want to get proof, facts and names in regard to whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false? Do you want success in luck, love, marriage, health, business and speculations? Special attention given to the location and discovery of old estates, lost documents, lost or absent friends—in a word whatever your troubles, suspicions, hopes, fears, or desires, you are earnestly invited to call, and you will be rewarded by obtaining a clear insight into the future. Also if you care to learn the lives and fates of those who are dear to you. All business private and confidential. Satisfaction guaranteed. Evil influences broken, good luck given. Your personal magnetism developed in 21 days.

OUTCOME OF A SENSATIONAL ASSAULT CASE.

Edward W. Connell and Frank L. Stevens Tell Their Stories in the Municipal Court—Court Raises Fine Because Stevens Said He Wished He Had Struck Him Harder.

The municipal court was the scene of an interesting assault and battery case which came up for trial this morning.

Frank L. Stevens, the West Side real estate agent was the defendant in the case and Edward W. Connell the complaining witness. Justice Jesse Earle presided in the absence of Judge Fifield and Wilson Lane appeared for the plaintiff and William Smith for the defense. When the case was called William Smith stated that he appeared for the defendant and waived the reading of the warrant and entered a plea of guilty.

Wilson Lane stated to the court that in order to get a proper understanding of the facts that the court should hear some statement in regard to the cause of the assault. Justice Earle ruled with Mr. Lane and Edward Connell took the stand.

Story of Edward Connell
He stated that he was sixty-six years of age and that he had resided in Janesville for the last fifty-one years. On Saturday he was seated on the settee in front of F. H. Baack's clothing store with Stevens and Louis Hemmings. They were joking in a coarse way and making remarks of a personal nature. Finally the remarks got to warm for Connell and he told Stevens he was a spy and made his bread and butter by spying and was the cause of a prominent citizen, an agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company, losing his position. He then got up from the settee and walked into Stillson's saloon where he lighted his pipe and walked out to go into Mr. Baack's clothing store.

Stevens was still sitting on the settee talking with Walter Little. When Connell came along Stevens got up and stepping up to him made some remarks and struck him over the head with his cane, cutting his scalp so that it bled copiously. He held up his hand to protect his head and received two more blows across the hand. Louis Hemmings, who saw the assault, then ran out and jerked the cane out of Stevens' hand and broke it across his knee. He then went into Baack's store and washed the blood off from his head. He did not call Stevens any names except a spy.

Saw the Assault
John T. Wilcox, an employee of F. H. Baack, was next sworn. He was standing near the settee when the assault occurred. He heard the passing remarks but thought that it was all in fun and did not pay much attention to what was said. He heard Connell call Stevens a spy and heard Stevens say he was glad of it, and made his bread and butter by it, but if anyone said he was one he was a spy.

Connell then left the seat and went into Stillson's. In a few minutes he came out and Stevens jumped up and struck him with his cane over the head drawing blood and also struck him two other blows before Hemmings grabbed the cane. He thought the blow had considerable force to it in order to break the skin.

Stevens Took the Stand
F. L. Stevens then took the stand in his own behalf and gave some of the causes leading up to the assault. Four years ago he made a loan of $400 on some property for Charles C. Russell. Connell had written the insurance on the property and he told Connell to fix the policy in favor of Mr. Russell, which he agreed to do. It ran along for some time and Connell did not produce the policy as he promised to. Mr. Russell wrote to the company and discovered that the policy had been cancelled by Connell and that during this time he had been without any fire protection. He and Mr. Russell hunted up Connell and asked an explanation but could get no satisfactory answer.

Shortly afterward while Connell was drunk he met the defendant and made a number of offensive remarks to him. He told Connell at that time that if he ever made those remarks again he would knock his head off.

Called Him a Spy
Saturday night Connell sat down on the settee next to him. He had been drinking and was smoking a pipe. The smell of the pipe and his breath were offensive to him and he asked him to change his seat. Connell then called him a spotter and a spy and he told him he was "glad of it." When Connell came out of Stillson's saloon, he said to him, "Ed, if you ever make those remarks again I will hit you harder than you have ever been hit before."

Connell then called him a vile name and he struck him with his cane, a stick weighing less than four ounces and with the small end, not the butt. It was the ferrule on the end of the cane that made the cut. He was sorry at the time he did not hit him harder. Connell was as drunk as a boiled owl. This was the third time Connell had abused him. He was forty-six years of age and weighed 152 pounds.

Wilson Lane addressed the court in behalf of the state and characterized Stevens as a dangerous man to be at large. That a man that would strike an old man like Connell, 66 years of age, tottering on the brink of the grave, would strike a child six years old. The law was made for the protection of children and old people and that Stevens should be given the limit. He was a coward and did not dare to attack a man of his size and he could find plenty of them. He ought to be fined $100 and given six months in jail.

Court Raised the Fine.
William Smith made a few remarks about people getting excited and used Mr. Lane as an illustration. Lane objected strongly to being used in this manner and appealed to the court for protection. He said there is a limit to the amount of abuse a man has to stand from another and this is not the first time Connell has used abusive language to Stevens. It is a well-known fact that when it comes to vile vituperous language Connell had no equal in the city.

After considering the facts in the case the justice found that although the assault might have been the outgrowth of ill-feeling and abuse, the plaintiff was under the influence of liquor and Stevens should have taken it into consideration. On account of the defendant saying he was sorry he did not hit the plaintiff harder he had raised the punishment and would impose a fine of $30 and costs, in all $37.75 or imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days.

Stevens promptly paid his fine and was discharged.

Colonel W. B. Britton received a letter today from his grand-son, Britton Lane of Chicago, saying that if the weather held good he and his sister, Miss Ella Lane, would make the trip from Chicago to this city on Saturday in a locomotive. Mr. Lane is employed in the sales department of the Mobile Company of America's western agency at Chicago and is an expert in handling and running one of these machines. While in the city they will be the guests of their grandparents, Col. and Mrs. W. B. Britton.

HIGH CHARACTER OF THE TEACHERS

COUNTY INSTITUTE ATTENDANTS GIVEN HIGH PRAISE.

State Inspectors Declare That the Material Represented is the Best That They Have Seen—An Enrollment of 113 Members—Those Who are Attending.

W. N. Parker, state high school inspector and formerly assistant state superintendent, and A. A. Thompson, one of the two newly appointed state grade school inspectors, and formerly county superintendent of Monroe county, visited the Rock County Teachers' Institute in session at the High school building yesterday. The inspectors visited the classes and spoke in the highest and most complimentary terms of the work being done at the institute which they declared to be one of the finest in the state. They were especially pleased with the high character of teachers who are attending the institute and spoke of it as evidence of the exceptionally fine educational advantages which the young students of Rock county enjoy. Rock county, with her excellent graded schools and many high schools, is one of the foremost counties in the state in educational matters and the gratifying result is seen at the institute.

The inspectors declared the teaching material represented at the institute the best they had seen. They were also high in their praises of the quality of the work which is being done by the conductors of the institute and declared the Rock county institute to be, without doubt, one of the strongest in the state.

The Rock county institute was one of fifteen which started in as many different counties last Monday. The attendance at the local institute has gradually increased until there are 113 members enrolled. Of these the majority are experienced teachers, although a large number are recent high school graduates. Over forty of those in attendance are from this city and about a dozen of them are members of this year's graduating class from the Janesville High school. Twenty-five or thirty new members of the institute are expected to enter next week but for this week the following is the complete enrollment:

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

E. J. Smith is in Chicago on business of the Ziegler store.

Gaylord Fenton and wife of Evansville spent last night in this city.

Miss Mildred Curtiss of Madison is visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Brace.

Charles Noyes and wife left today for their summer outing at Lauderdale lake.

W. A. Sprague and wife of Brodhead were visitors to this city yesterday.

Lucius Lee, who was so badly injured, is improving slowly, and hopes to be out soon.

Miss Maude Davidson of Blue Island, Ill., is the guest of Captain and Mrs. Charles T. Achterberg.

H. S. McGiffin left yesterday morning for a two days' trip through the tobacco country in Vernon county.

Mrs. Edwin O. Lee of South Bend Ind., is the guest of Mr. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lee, 206 Division street. Mr. Lee intends to come later.

M. F. Birmingham, who is now playing with Davenport, Iowa, took a run up from Rockford last night, where the team is playing a series of games and returned this morning.

Joseph Davidson of Blue Island, Ill., who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Charles T. Achterberg for several days returns to his home today.

M. L. Dunn, the gentlemanly representative of the Remington typewriter manufacturers, has a broad smile on his face today on account of a new baby girl which arrived at his home in Madison.

J. C. Ullrich of the Jeffris company, is home from an extended business trip through Indiana and Michigan. During his trip he visited his old home at Saginaw, where his parents still reside.

Hamilton Vose returned to his home in Milwaukee today after a visit with the golf players of the Slinniss golf club. Mr. Vose made some low scores while here and is liable to be in at the finish at the tournament.

Circus Bills a Nuisance.
The bills put up by Buffalo Bill and Ringling Brothers which hang down from the edges of the awnings about town are the biggest kind of a nuisance this windy weather. They get loose on the corners and hit the unwary pedestrians a slap in the face as they pass along the street, and are liable to put out an eye or do other damage. It should be seen to that these posters are securely fastened so as not to hit passers-by in the face.

Notice to Subscribers
Subscriptions to the canning factory can be paid at an early date at any of the banks. Subscribers are requested to make payment at an early date.

FIERCE FIRE ON THE FAIR GROUNDS

Three Rows of Horse Stalls Near the Gates Wholly Destroyed—Large Horse Barn in Danger

A fierce fire is raging at the fair grounds this afternoon. The three rows of horse stalls at the west end of the grounds near the gates are totally destroyed and the large horse barn which is used as a tobacco shed is threatened.

The fire department is fighting the fire under great difficulties, having trouble in getting water service.

J. M. Bostwick, the owner of the property says that it is partially insured.

It is supposed that the fire was started through the carelessness of some one who was smoking in the vicinity.

At 3:40 o'clock this afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in from box 25 and shortly afterwards the signal for direct pressure was given. Dense black smoke is still rolling up from the burning buildings as the Gazette goes to press.

CLOTHING THE GIRLS

HOME DRESSMAKING HINTS FOR MOTHERS OF LITTLE WOMEN.

How to Make Summer Frocks That Will Be Pretty, Stylish and Serviceable—Sailor, Suit and French Dress—Wraps and Jackets.

Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.

The present tendency is to have all dresses for girls as long waisted as they can be, and the Russian blouse, the sailor suit and the dress up frock are all made so. To this end also has the old fashioned dress been revived, with the waist reaching quite to the hips, and this in the case of very small girls brings it so that the skirt is not over six to eight inches long. To make this absurdly long waist fit it is necessary to shape the lining over the hips.

FRENCH DRESS.

es, so as to have the effect of the long waist. The back is cut smooth and closes with buttons and buttonholes.

The dress in the illustration is made with a medium low neck and short, puffed sleeves, but many frocks intended for summer wear are cut quite low on the shoulders. Glimpses may be worn, but the present outlook is that they will not. This style of shape is adapted to all the seasonable goods, and these are chambray, glenham, percale, pique, dimity, galatea and many of the fine woolen and silk and woolen stuffs, albatross and velvings. Many of the small dresses have berthas and are most often cut in turtlet shape, so that they are easy to make and easy to iron, for most dresses now being made are calculated to be washed. A sash belt is another necessary adjunct, and this may be of some contrasting color or of ribbon. There is a decided movement toward the use of much ribbon on children's dresses, especially these long waisted things. A wide sash is passed around the lower edge of the waist and fastened by straps of the dress material or by fancy pins. It is tied in an immense bow with short ends at the back. To cut this waist lining take a fold of whatever lining may be used—white muslin is best for wash dresses—and lay two darts in the front. The sides are sloped out. Baste the lining in and try on and "pinch" it in until it sets smoothly over the hip and right across the chest. Then rip it, trim off the surplus and take the outside and fold the center over so that it makes four inches on each side of the center of the waist. This is then gathered at the neck and at the bottom and the edges all basted around. The outside should be three inches longer than the lining at the front at the bottom. This will give the desired pouched effect. When that part is ready, the skirt should be gathered and basted on and sewed fast. The sash covers the seam. The pieces which form the bertha are set on apparently upside down and when sewed fall over into place. This is the model from which many changes can be evolved, and many different ways of trimming can be devised. Lace, swiss and some of the thin silks are very dainty made so. Narrow ruffles and fine embroidery can be utilized on these French frocks.

There will be a few Mother Hubbard dresses worn by the smaller girls, and these require no direction save that they are short and reach scarcely to the knee. They are more for everyday than for dressy wear.

The sailor suit for every day and school is too well known to need much explanation, but one thing new about it is that the whole dress is made in one piece from neck to the bottom. The frock is laid in plaits, which are fastened down to the waist line, and from there they fall free, which brings the fullness to the skirt. There is a belt which droops low and holds the plaits in place. This is sometimes of undressed leather, but most often is of the dress material, with some braid stitched upon it. This must be made stiff with lining and much stitching. To these suits the sailor collar belongs, and should be made of the material of the dress and bound with wide linen bands. The sailor knot is of the white linen and beamed with a narrow hem. This collar should be made so that it can be taken off when the weather is so warm as to make it oppressive.

To make a sailor suit like the one in the illustration requires four yards of 36 inch stuff and a quarter of a yard of linen. This is for a girl of 8.

BIG TRAVELING ZOO.

Unrivalled Collection of Wild Animals With Ringling Bros.' Circus.

Ringling Brothers' menagerie, which will be seen with this famous big show when it exhibits in Janesville, Wis., July 30, is the largest and most complete zoological collection in the world. The display is complete in every detail. It contains more specimens of wild beast than all the other circuses and zoological gardens in America combined. The magnitude of the collection is sufficiently indicated when the statement is made that it embraces thirty elephants ranging from the tiniest of baby elephants to a herd of the largest pachyderms in the world, together with scores of other wild animals and a hundred dens and cages of rare and costly wild beasts, including the only giraffe known to exist.

The method of displaying these animals is admirable. The great menagerie pavilion is arranged like a vast zoological garden. In the centre spaces are displayed the elephants, the great herd of camels, the curious Philippine water buffaloes, the dwarf sacred cattle, the sixty Shetland ponies and other led animals. The wild animal dens, which are handsomely carved and gorgeously decorated, line the walls, with a broad esplanade between. A successful effort has been made to exhibit the animals in such a way as to illustrate their life in a natural state. The aquaria in which the hippopotami, sea lions, seals and other water frequenting animals are exhibited, is supplied with constantly flowing water. The aviary comprises nearly a score of handsome, gold-illuminated cages, filled with the gayly plumaged birds of every land. The children's menagerie, with its tiny cages of animals, has the largest and most varied collection of monkeys, apes, chimpanzees, and other simians ever placed on exhibition for the pleasure and profit of the little folks. Among the hundreds of other curious animals there are many rarely seen in captivity. There is a ferocious bi-horned rhinoceros, a fine specimen of the gnu, or horned horse; monster white Polar bears; a den of black tigers; several superb specimens of the royal Bengal tiger, scores of lions, zebras, kangaroos and many other wild animals, and a magnificent display of mammoth desert ostriches. An hour spent in Ringling Brothers' menagerie is a fitting introduction to the performance in the vast hippodrome pavilion. The circus, like the menagerie, is bigger and better than ever this year. Scores of new arenic features have been secured for the present season: thirty riders, sixty acrobats, an equal number of aerialists, forty clowns and a great congress of other high-class specialists contribute to a magnificent three-ring circus performance, which is thrillingly concluded with an all-new Roman hippodrome, presented upon an unequalled scale of grandeur and completeness.

CHICAGO DOCTORS TO VISIT SPRINGS

Twenty or More Leading Physicians
Taken Out to Examine Burr
Lithia Springs.

A telegram was received this morning by the Gazette from F. J. Tucker of Chicago, stating that twenty or more prominent Chicago physicians would leave Chicago at one o'clock today on a special for Janesville to visit the Burr Lithia Springs and examine the property.

This visit on the part of these eminent doctors means much for the city of Janesville and the success of the Spring company. The building of the large sanitarium at the Springs depends almost entirely upon the decision of the doctors in regard to its location and the medicinal properties of the water.

There can be no question as to the value of the water as it took first rank at the World's Fair, in competition with waters from all parts of the globe. The Chicago physicians have been on the lookout for some time for a place of this kind and there is little doubt that the Burr Springs is an ideal spot for locating a sanitarium that will answer all their requirements. The Chicago physicians were met at the train by a delegation of doctors from this city and together with the newspaper representatives made a trip to the Springs.

The doctors from Chicago were: D. S. Harry, W. A. Cusey, C. T. Mulrairie, Sanger Brown, Bak Steele, W. L. Baum, A. R. Elliott, W. T. Coleman, H. P. Newman, John Ridlon, Henry T. Byford, E. J. Deoring, Henry Paville, Frank T. Andrews, Willard Andrews, Archibald Church, Frank Billings, T. T. MacArthur, Frank S. Johnson, James Barry, E. S. Senn, A. H. Roier.

The special train bearing the doctors arrived over the Janesville & Southeastern at 3:15 in charge of Conductor Charles Joss. They left Chicago at 1:05 p. m. and arrived in this city at 3:15 p. m., making the run in two hours and ten minutes. They were met at the train by a delegation of local physicians and escorted to the steamboat landing at the Fourth Avenue bridge. A supper under charge of Mrs. Louise Bowerman was served at the Springs.

Conductor Is Killed
Erie, Pa., July 11.—The span of the Nickel Plate bridge at Conneaut, O., gave way this afternoon, letting three cars with seventeen workmen through. Conductor Philmore was killed.

A. W. Rush of the firm of E. A. Rush & Co. of Grand Rapids, Mich., designers of the new city hall, is in the city and will remain for some time.

LADIES' AFTERNOON EUCHRE CLUB

Members of the Ladies Afternoon Euchre club were handsomely entertained by Mrs. W. T. Vankirk at her home, 8 Milton avenue, this afternoon. The invitations were issued for 2:30 o'clock and the company included about twenty-five ladies.

The afternoon was devoted to playing cards, the tables being arranged in the pleasant parlors which were so refreshingly cool that the guests were delightfully surprised. The Vankirk home is an ideal one for entertaining and the ladies spent the afternoon not only in a pleasant social manner but in physical comfort, the latter being a rare privilege in these trying days of high temperatures.

Late in the afternoon the fascinating bits of card-board were confiscated by the hostess and the card tables were speedily transformed into luncheon tables where dainty things to eat were trumps and everyone held a winning hand. The supper was both elegant and elaborate and it was faultlessly served. The entire occasion was one of pure enjoyment for those who were privileged to enjoy Mrs. Vankirk's gracious hospitality.

GOLF TOURNEY TO BE HELD IN AUGUST

W. G. A. Offers $300 in Prizes—The Directors Decide to Hold Open Championship at Midlothian.

Chicago, July 11.—Western golf professionals are to have a championship this year. By unanimous vote the directors of the Western Golf association yesterday afternoon voted $300 in prizes for the tourney, which is to be held in connection with the eastern amateur championship on the links of the Midlothian Country club in August.

All professionals connected with clubs in the Western Golf association will be eligible to compete. Amateurs as well will be allowed to try at first prize, which, if won by an amateur will be converted into plate. The other prizes will be in cash absolutely, and no amateur may take a prize except first.

Five prizes are to be given as follows: First, $125 and a gold medal; second $75; third, $50; fourth, $20, and fifth, $20. The event will be at thirty-six holes, medal play, eighteen holes will be played in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon.

Edwin Fifield and wife left yesterday for Lake Kegonsa, where they have lately purchased a lot fronting on the lake.
